

Ytrail® Corporate Overview

Ytrail is the industry expert in suspicious activity analysis, profiling and automated surveillance. Our solutions easily integrate multiple data sources, both structured and unstructured. A single view provides deep insights into suspicious activity within a single customizable view. Our products are architected to be agile, real time, quick to implement and able to deal with the challenge of big data. They are designed to run at a significantly lower total cost of ownership.

Vision

At Ytrail, we believe in a single view approach to real time data management off all available data sources, minimizing the resources involved. Thereby enabling a stealth approach in the monitoring and tracking of all possible situations or individuals. We believe that profiling, data correlation and analysis as well as real time suspicious activity reporting are key to any successful operation.

Our belief has led to the creation of an innovative solution, the Ytrail National Information Center (YNIC) and the Ytrail Corporate Command Center (YCCC), that is designed to significantly lower total cost of operations as compared to legacy approaches. We offer all our customers a common core product with rich in feature-functionality and access to a fully funded road map.

Our product philosophy ensures that our customers enjoy the benefits of a living solution; one that evolves overtime and improves with innovation.
