Investigation, surveillance, seeking information...

Evidence is on the net!

Amecs® gives you the means to find it.

Everything which is written or published on the net stays there

The internet era and smartphones offer new traces to be collected: e-mail, social networks, chat rooms, sms...

Nowadays, internet communications are a major source of information which is essential to make progress and achieve results in an investigation.

The complexity of the internet as well as the constant and rapid changes it is undergoing don't make life easier for you: difficult activation and the cost of interceptions, encrypted communications, little information available, difficulties exploiting raw data ...

Amecs® offers investigators its innovative approach and supports them on a daily basis in their search for evidence.

You are in the investigation business...

...Our role is to provide you with easy and quick access to information:

- IP address log files,
- mailbox log files,
- geographical identification of the IP addresses,
- identification of a target's correspondents,
- content of mail and attachments,
- various cross-checks : Address books, email accounts, etc...
- summary of all the elements collected.

Amecs® offers you alternative, efficient, tried-and-tested analysis solutions...

- Overall and automated analysis of the metadata, from the main worldwide service providers,
- searches on social networks,

- searches on personal spaces: e-mails, social networks, etc...
- targeted searches according to criteria or keywords.
